I'll double-check. We may have paid one press and no ESTH because they would be there anyways. I only remember paying for one, but I'll have my Japan program manager look it up.

The person heading G7 and my Econ Counselor Minister are pretty adamant that we don't go unless the agency is picking it up. I'm in charge of Science (OSTP - they just put someone in place. The Italians are disorganized on this front since they changed ministers in January, so they are just barely ramping up. Good thing that Ministerial is at the end of Sept!), Health (first part of Nov., in which case I could be the beneficiary of HHS year-end funding), and Environment.

Doesn't hurt to ask, but we did not support the travel for similar staff from Tokyo to Toyama for G-7 in Japan either. Wouldn't Embassy have someone in Bologna anyways, or were you planning to pass?
